HOUSE OF LORDS REJECTS

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The woman suffrage bill was rejected by the House of Lords by a vote of 104 to 60, Among those who voted for the bill were Viscount Morley, of Blackburn; the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishops of London, Hereford. Bangor and St. Asaph.

Those voting against the bill included the Marquis of Landsdowns, Viscount Esher, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Halsbury and the Duke of Northumberland.

THE FORTIFICATION OF THE CANAL.

No mere neutralization of the Panama Canal would ever be respected by any great nation or group of nations engaged in a struggle for supremacy, for self-preservation is the first law of nature and is as applicable to nations as it is to individuals. The entire area around the Panama Canal is nothing more or less than a great fortress, and I have always believed that its government should be essentially military, such as the great fortresses of Gibraltar and Malta, the governor having certain civil functions and officials, but being in absolute authority in practically all matters, so that a change from peace to war may involve the least possible change.

The garrison proposed for Panama will when complete, amount to about 7,000 men .- Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, in the May World's Work.

TAFT OPPOSES WAR-WATTERSON SAYS, "ON TO PANAMA!"

Decidedly the feature of the annual business meeting of the Loyal Legion Wednesday at Cincinnati was the talk of former President William Howard Taft on the trouble in Mexico. He was introduced to the assembled comrades by General J. Warren Keifer, former Commander and the only Major General of volunteers commissioned by President McKinley in the Spanish-American War.

Judge Taft was opposed to war in Mexico if it could possibly be avoided. The old soldiers before him know how terrible war was. It would involve the expenditure of millions of dollars and cost many precious American lives. It would probably take 300,000 or 400,000 soldiers and $1,000,000 a day. It was a satisfaction for him to look into the faces of men who had seen real war, because they understood just what it meant. In talking to them he felt that he must talk seriously. Recently 700 or 800 students called on him at New Haven to make a war speech, but he told them what a serious proposition it was and he thought he had changed their minds about wanting to fight.

Great applause greeted a characteristic telegram from Editor Henry Watterson, of Louisville, who, wired Dr. Felix G. Cross, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, as follows:

"It distresses me that I am unable to sit with you tonight, to rub my old bones against your old bones, to laugh with you, sing with you, yea, verily, and drink with you in moderation, forgetting for a little while that we are not as young as we were and may not march together heart to heart and shoulder to shoulder on our way via Mexico to Panama and thence to the equator and the south pole. Take the will for the deed; tell Miles and Keifer and Cowan to touch it lightly and think of me along with this sentiment, which I give you, all the nation's honor and the country's flag with manifest destiny at the fore and devil take the hindmost.

"HENRY WATTERSON."

The telegram was received with cheers and laughter. "There is only one Watterson," was the cry around the tables. The proposal of Chairman Rule to drink to the health of the great Kentucky editor met with unanimous response, and the toast was drunk standing.

WHEN A NUISANCE ACT IS A NUISANCE.

The "Nuisance Act" which went into effect in Tennessee recently shows how every State prohibition law requires ingenious enforcing legislation. Directed against the three largest cities, Memphis, Chattanooga and Nashville, which have defied the rest of the State to close their saloons, it compels obedience by putting the execution of the law in the hands of the judiciary. No more can recalcitrant officers balk its operation; hereafter, on complaint of ten taxpayers, armed with proper evidence, the courts are authorized to step in directly and close, as a "public nuisance," any place where liquors are sold. The saloons were shut at midnight with an avowal by the police that thereafter the cities would bow to the law they had fought as town against country, for two years. The necessity for such a measure implies a sad reflection upon the ordinary guardians of local peace and order .-The Nation.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE.

After the Curfew.

His feet were flying like the wind; His robes were streaming down behind; His shoes were on his feet.

Waving his arms violently, the strange, white-robed figure ran shricking through the quiet streets.

"Kill him! Kill him!" he cried as his patriarchal beard flowed in the chill night breeze, Soon a crowd was at his venerable but flying heels.

"We musn't let murder be done!" panted one belated citizen who had joined in the chase. "He is older than we are, but we mustn't let respect for age hrader us from preventing murder."

The old man ran on.

"Kill him! Murder him! Murder him!" he cried, brandishing his arms as if to urge on the mob at his heels. "This sounds serious," said another citizen. "I dislike murders of all kinds, but to see an old gentleman commit one is positively distasteful to me."

The old man ran on, raising his voice without assistance, stores, though he must have been close to a hundred.

"Kill him, I say-kill him!" he screamed. "Kill the um-

With a disgusted snort, the pursuing crowd put on the brakes, for they all knew now that the old man was merely a baseball fan runniag in his sleep.-Louisville Times.

NEVER SUSPECTED KIDNEY TROUBLE

Gained Fifty Pounds in Weight,

Some time ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I randown in weight from 195 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recomnended for kidney trouble but I never had any idea that my kidneys were ef-I thought I would try a fiftyent Bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the fifty-cent bottle and then bought three more dollar bottles and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight-195 pounds-and I am a thorough advocate f Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I beieve it to be a remarkable preparaion for what it is recommended to do WILLIAM H.
